

A photograph of three men on a cart filled with palm oil fruit. The man in the foreground is older, wearing a cap and a dark shirt, looking upwards with a thoughtful expression. Behind him, a younger man in a green shirt also looks upwards. To the left, another younger man is shirtless, resting his chin on his hand and looking off to the side. The cart is overflowing with palm oil fruit, and the background shows a tropical landscape with trees under a blue sky with clouds.
